YOUTH TAKES OVER HELM OF DALY CITY GOVERNMENT

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

FBI are sleuthing this week for a Daly City manufacturer who left home, wife and bills in exchange for a south of the border enterprise.

Reason the feds are in, the story goes, is because this gent is supposedly dealing in white slave traffic. Naughty, naughty, says the bureau. It's not nice to transport a body across the border, even if the body is alive and kicking.

All in a day's work: JIM WELSH, Daly City copper, helped deliver a baby last week and the report is that both survived the ordeal.

The many Jefferson grads at city hall are first to deny it, but could local high school students have been responsible for tearing up the South City high turf last weekend prior to the big game?

Aw, come on now, don't tell us it was a bunch of UC collegians who got so exhilarated they mistook it for the Palo Alto turnoff.

JOE ROHL, local PG & E boss man, has found that progress has its penalties. While workmen were preparing the local office's new front, Joe was taking it all in when, lo, a fixture fell, landing smack on his noggin.

Local PG&E lads say the bandage on Joe's head, like PG&E's slogan, is a "mark of progress."

Spectators at Monday's council session (where Junior Statesmen took over) were bemused at City Attorney FRANK (the barrister's Ben Hogan) BLUM instructing student JOHN WIESNER in the finer Blackstonian tradition.

Young John stands a good head taller than Frank and had to bend over to catch the whispered wisdom.

Hearing on alleged violation of state liquor laws by six San Mateo county licensees is set for December 11.

Among those having to answer to the law will be GEORGE KIRCHHUBEL and JAMES CRUDO, proprietors of the Hilltop Lodge, a top-of-the-hill hard drink establishment, accused of selling to minors.

A law gaining increasing favor throughout the state is rumored

Junior Statesmen Govern City For Day; Plan Annual Event

Showing more interest in civic activities than most of the community's citizens, 18 members of Jefferson Union High school Junior Statesmen club took over the reins of city government Monday and got an inside look at the complications of municipal business.

Throughout the day the students accompanied department heads in their routine business and the activity was capped by the statesmen's appearance at the council meeting that evening .

Councilman Paul Green, speaking on behalf of the council presented Sidney Warren, acting mayor, with a gavel and lauded the youngsters for their interest in city government.

Miss Warren, along with the other acting officials for the day, expressed their pleasure at the opportunity to study city government and announced that the project would become an annual one.

Each junior official rose at the meeting and gave a short speech summarizing their day's activity, much to the delight of a record crowd of 50 assembled in the council chambers.

The Junior Statesmen conducted a mock meeting during an intermission of the regular session, and, among other things, approved legislation calling for a recall election to remove acting mayor Warren for "her good looks and frivolity in public office."

Author of the long-winded but whimsical ordinance was acting city attorney John Wiesner. The students held debate on some questions of the recall and observed parliamentary procedure almost to a T, with occasional legal aid from regular city officials, seated strategically nearby.

To inject reality into the day's usurpation of municipal powers, a sham arrest was held under supervision of junior police chief Marty Whitehouse, assisted by police lieutenant Dave Haaland.

Object of the arrest was regular fireman Henry Wiesner, who was shuttled off to the calaboose and held there until bail was put up by fellow fireman Wayne Alexander.

During the noon hour the students were treated to lunch at the Garden Room of the Colonial.

Students who took part in runing Daly City Monday were: Miss Warren, mayor; Mary Jane Schuler, Beverly Hamilton, Mike Sibitz and Roberta Taylor, councilmen; Yvonne Williford, city manager; Carol Bertelli, clerk; Carol Benedetti, treasurer; John Wiesner, attorney; Neil Vannucci, building inspector; Nadine Baher, recreation director; Kathy Dunn, superintendent of water department; Martha Whitehouse, chief of police; Pat Long, sergeant; David Haaland, lieutenant; Gwenn Anthony, fire chief; Ronald Bygum, captain; Jim Galindo, pound master.

Funeral Service For Polio Victim

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, November 24, for Gerald Nicholas, 18 of 49 Reiner street, Colma, who died at San Mateo Community hospital following a polio attack.

Nicholas was the county's first polio victim of the year.

Nicholas had been in the hospitals respirator for 24 hours. Death resulted from the bulbar type of polio which affect the respiratory organs.

Services were conducted from the mortuary of Gantner-Felder-Kenny in San Francisco.

Interment followed at Cypress Lawn Memorial park.

National Racing News Gets Cold Shoulder Here

Daly City's "illustrious" days as a haven for book making and that industry's accompanying enterprises are apparently gone forever.

The city council made this clear Monday night when they unanimously denied a request for permit to sell the "National Racing News" here.

Edward J. Schmidt, representative of the firm, wrote the council asking possibility of selling "my services" here and also the cost of a business permit.

One council member asked what type of services he offered.

In plain words, a "tip sheet" another city father answered. Motion to deny permit was forthcoming.

DC Man Gets Stiff Penalty For Ignoring San Francisco Tags

Frank E. Sessions Jr., 25, of 14 Beta avenue, was sentenced to 30 days in jail or a $150 fine by San Francisco Municipal Judge Raymond J. Arata, for ignoring 44 parking meter violations.

"This youth ignored the original tag, the second citation which was sent to his home address, and finally the notice of warrants which were issued in some of the older cases," Judge Arata said.

"This is a flagrant disregard of our laws, which we are trying to enforce for the benefit of the citizenry as a whole and an unfair attitude to take," the judge added.

Bocci Finds Disturber Guilty On Four Counts

Frederick James Wilson, 32, was a 38-time loser until this week when he acquired his 39th, 40th, 41st and 42nd offenses.

Found guilty in Judge Thomas L. Bocci's Municipal court Wednesday on four separate counts, Wilson was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail, 30 of which will be suspended on condition he pays a $300 fine.

It all started Monday about 3:30 a.m. when Sgt. David Hansen and officer Jerry Galindo spotted Wilson driving his auto backwards, heading south on Junipero Serra. Police then observed Wilson turn east into a private road near the Lake Merced nursery, weave south on Railroad avenue and back on that road and into a telephone pole.

After considerable grinding of gears, Wilson backed up again and rolled in a ditch.

When the officers reached the scene they found Wilson in a sorry condition—his left eye was discolored and his lips were bruised.

Wilson aimed a barrage of select words at the officers, explaining he was in a fight in San Francisco and wouldn't mind repeating the evening's performance.

He also told the police that he had just been released from the county jail the previous day and "why don't you try to put me back."

Then Wilson lit in to the officers, slobbering, screaching, swearing and scratching.

Hansen summoned assistance, and officer Philip La Bruzzo responded. The three of them, with difficulty, managed to handle Wilson.

Transporting him to Junipero Serra hospital, he continued kicking, fighting and cussing and refused a sobriety test.

Daly City police finally decided a padded cell was called for, so asked permission of the South San Francisco police to use their facilities.

At the South City station Wilson, when denied a cigarette, bent over into the cuspidor and picked a butt out, chewing and spitting the tobacco out along with more swear words.

Police left Wilson in South City and went to 112 East Moltke, Daly City, where Manuel and Barbara Strite, owners of the car, lived.

Mrs. Strite said she had gone to dinner with Wilson earlier in the evening, but when he became "un-

Councilman Urges 16-Hour Cut In Parking Meter Time

A proposal to give motorists 16 hours more free parking a week was in the tentative stages this week.

Councilman Edward J. Dennis forwarded to the police commission a letter asking their recommendation on the possibility of shortening hours in which parking meters are in effect.

At present, the meters are in operation from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Dennis informed the commission that he would welcome the opinion of your honorable commission relative to amending the parking meter ordinance. My suggestion is to shorten the hours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, with no fee after 12 noon on Saturdays.

The councilman explained that the Saturday afternoon free parking is currently in operation in San Francisco, and "has proven beneficial to both merchants and shoppers." Dennis also pointed out that 16 hours of valuable police time would be saved weekly.

Old Glory Auxiliary Members Pay Visit To Vets' Hospital

Those from the local Auxiliary attending were: Bonnie Ellenwood, Mary Conti, Catherine McKeown, Marjorie Johnson, Leona Lombardi and Edna Correll.

Next party will be held December 16, at which time Yuletide season will be the theme.

RESPONSE SHOWS DIRE BUS NEEDS

More Than 300 Forward Transportation Ballots

Citizens stressed the need for the extension of the No. 14 bus into Colma as transportation improvement ballots poured into THE RECORD this week.

Over 300 ballots were tabulated in THE RECORD office this week with almost every citizen expressing the dire need for this bus extension.

An appointment will be arranged at a future date with James Turner, head of Public Utilities Commission in San Francisco, at which time the ballots and petitions will be presented.

The five petitions are located at the Anchor Drug Co., Colma, Daly City Blind and Shade, Peter Markovich Insurance office, George Lagomarsino Co. and THE RECORD office.

THE RECORD, in order to again give citizens and opportunity to voice their opinion on the matter, has provided another ballot to be found on the Editorial page. It has been pointed out that if there is insufficient weight of opinion to prompt extension of the bus service, it will be largely because of apathy on the part of the citizens.

SAFE CRACK ATTEMPT AT JEFF HIGH FAILS

Bungling a job to crack a safe at Jefferson Union High school last weekend, the burglars departed the scene leaving the tools of their trade scattered about the office.

Apparently seeking the football game receipts of that week, the safe-crackers entered through the ground floor window in the north side of the south wing, using a pry to jimmy their way in.

Police said the attempt on the safe was a "punch job."

Found at the scene were a pair of gloves, a claw hammer, two screw drivers, a four-inch punch and a pry bar.

Errant Driver Served Stiff Fines, Sentence

Willy Thompson, 29-year-old car washer convicted of drunk and wreckless driving and speeding in Daly City Sunday, received a stiff sentence Tuesday in Judge Thomas L. Bocci's municipal court.

Found guilty on the three separate counts, Thompson was given a total of 65 days suspended jail sentence and fined $280. In addition he was ordered to serve five days in the county jail.

He was apprehended by local police Sunday afternoon after smashing into an island at El Camino Real and San Pedro road. Officers who gave chase said he was traveling at one time at speeds exceeding 95 miles per hour.

Bocci also found Inez B. Creedon, 49, of 612 Larchmont drive, guilty of petty theft, meting out a five-day suspended sentence and a $50 fine.

She was picked up on the charge last week on complaint of a local super market manager, who said she walked out of the store with two items which she had failed to pay for.

Green Lashes Blum; Questions Legality Of City Resolutions

CITY FIX-UP

By The Squack Doctor

The Squack Doctor was sorely put to make financial ends meet this week as only one patient responded to his freshly-varnished shingle.

However, the one response was a good one, and the doctor is somewhat consoled by that fact.

This week's case comes from Mrs. C. L. White of Templeton avenue.

"Fix up Daly City? A marvelous suggestion," she says.

"First off I would like to suggest correcting our impossible 'top of the hill' shopping area.

"Additional signal lights are needed, especially at the Crocker-Mission and Hillside-Mission-Knowles intersections. A pedestrian crosswalk is sadly lacking across Mission at Hillside."

Now Mrs. White doesn't draw a line at the squack department. She goes on to offer the following remedy to the "hazardous and nearly impossible crossing of Mission street anywhere in this area."

"How about installing the scramble system of passing—where the lights turn red for all cars and pedestrians are allowed to cross in any direction, even diagonally. Then stop all pedestrians and follow the regular traffic pattern of signals for auto traffic."

She continues, "In the same area, how about making Bepler a one-way street westbound for one block and reversing the direction of the street alongside the post office (Mission Circle) to run one-way south. Then instead of Bepler street traffic trying to buck the back-up on San Jose during busy hours, that Bepler traffic would be channeled around the block and come out at the signal light with an opportunity to get on to Mission or San Jose."

Realizing that the state highway department might have to be consulted on these matters, Mrs. White suggests that city and state engineers should "be enticed from behind the drawing boards and lay down their slide rules long enough to attempt a little shopping and a few errands on foot and auto to realize how utterly impossible the situation is for Daly City citizens."

She concluded by saying, "Could be I'm dreaming," but the wise doctor disagreed and marked the case down in the books as one requiring a major operation.

THREE AUTO THEFTS HERE OVER WEEKEND

Auto thieves struck three times in Daly City this week, but all the missing cars were recovered.

A vehicle owned by Patricia Merkle Hinebough, 370 Hillside boulevard, was reported stolen between Saturday and Sunday, but turned up in San Francisco.

The victim, a laboratory technician, said some $470 worth of laboratory equipment and clothes were also taken. Police said most of the articles were still in the car.

Gladys Morton, 6724 Mission street, and Ronald A. Quint, 40 Alexander, also reported their autos stolen last weekend. Both vehicles were recovered in Daly City.

The usually peaceful chambers of the city council were disrupted Monday night before a near-capacity audience as Councilman Paul Green took on, individually and collectively, fellow members of the council and the city attorney.

First outburst came from Green on the routine reading of resolutions calling for public hearings on re-zoning matters.

Green said the phraseology of the resolutions, which state "the council intends to rezone" was incorrect and that the council "intends" no such thing. They merely "intended" to call a public hearing to determine whether they should re-zone certain areas, he maintained.

Legal, Attorney Says

Attorney Frank Blum explained the phraseology was legal and in accordance with the California Code governing such action.

He further pointed out that the resolutions had been worded in that manner for the past three years.

Green snapped back, "Don't put words in my mouth, Mr. Blum. We're going to change this wording the fourth year."

Councilmen Edward J. Dennis and James Kennedy expressed themselves in favor of proceeding with the business of passing the resolutions, as long as the phraseology was legal. "I don't see any reason to delay matters over a slight argument like this," Kennedy protested.

"Out Of Order"

Motion to pass the resolution in question was made and seconded, whereon Green ruled this action out of order. He asked City Clerk B. C. Ross to re-read the resolution.

Then he directed the question, "Is it your 'intention' to re-zone?" to each one of the councilmen.

Kennedy answered, "I will decide that later, at the hearing."

Green countered: "I think you can understand English, Mr. Kennedy."

The latter retorted that he surely could, whereupon Green again attempted to point out the fallacy of the "intends" clause.

Green Overruled

Dennis moved the previous question and it passed, with Green voicing a "no," Mayor Gaggero, Dennis and Kennedy approving the resolution.

Green then told the clerk he wished to submit a formal complaint that he did not agree with the phraseology.

On succeeding resolutions with the same wording, Green continued to protest their meaning, but all the legislation carried.

Later in the evening, on a resolution calling for annexation of uninhabited territory on the "Willow Tree" property, Green again found fault with the wording. "It's the Cabbage Patch and not the Willow Tree area and should be so designated," he fumed.

Refutes Attorney

When Attorney Blum attempted to explain the apparent discrepancy Green interrupted him, shouting "You're wrong."

On settlement of this question, Green asked that Ross read the annexation resolution again in event that there might be "further errors."

Kennedy suggested sarcastically that Green be sent a copy of the resolution so that he might study it more closely.

A brief intermission was held in order that the Junior Statesmen (see accompanying story on this page) could hold session.

Continues Feud

Green continued to lock verbal horns with Blum when the regular meeting was resumed.

Discussion on calling of bids for the Brunswick extension project was held and Green demanded why the resolution asking the bids wasn't prepared.

"This is an important project

Green Lashes Out At Attorney Blum

and we should call for those bids tonight."

He then demanded that Blum and Edwin Smith, engineer, withdraw to the study room and prepare the resolution.

Blum Explains

Restraining himself, Blum explained the resolution was already drawn but that the OLPH church was interested in doing some excavating work in the vicinity of Brunswick, and the city might save some money by reaching an agreement with the church.

This might take another week to reach a mutual settlement, but would save the city from five to six thousand dollars, according to Blum.

Blum pointed out that it was only his recommendation that the matter of entering a joint agreement be considered.

Blum Explodes

When Green interjected that Blum had no business making the recommendation, that was too much for Blum. "You've held an antagonistic attitude all evening and if you continue to be so dogmatic we won't get a thing accomplished, or save the city any money," Blum fired back.

This outburst ended the evening's fireworks and the council went on to call for bids on the Brunswick job, with Councilman Dennis voicing his disapproval, claiming that $20,000 was too much for the project. The bids will be opened December 28.

After the smoke had cleared, the council had transacted the following other business:

1. Gave Engineer Smith sanction to sign state specifications for the Alemany traffic signals. Smith said the city's request for three-way signals and lay-overs for left turn traffic at the Lake Merced and Alemany boulevards juncture had been complied with. Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy's request that a control switch be installed to turn all signals red in event of a fire was approved.

2. Approved civil service board of review's eligibility list for position of patrolmen. Those listed were Charles L. Terry, Myron F. Heggum and Richard S. Phillips.

3. Set December 28 as date for public hearing on several re-zoning matters and one proposed annexation. Hearings were scheduled on proposed re-zoning of Lots 28 and 29, Block 3, in $75 Homestead, from R-2 to C-1; Lot 2, Block B, Mission street, from R-2 to C-1; Westlake subdivision 5-E from C-1 to R-1; Westlake subdivision No. 3, to C-1; portion Lot 3, all of 4, Block 15, School House Homestead subdivision, from R-3 to C-1. Proposed annexation includes uninhabited territory in Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, Block 4, in the Abbey Homestead area (Cabbage Patch).

Children To Present "The Nutcracker"

The delightful fantasy, "The Nutcracker Suite," will be presented by Westlake school children on Thursday evening, December 3, in the multi-purpose room of the school.

Each class will be represented by students taking part in this traditional Christmas program. The Westlake School Glee Club will add to the evening's festivities with selections in the Christmas spirit.

Westlake PTA president, Mrs. Fred Kruse, announces that the business meeting preceding the program will be very short.

The executive board meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. E. Brakebill, 65 Terrace avenue, on Monday, November 30, at 8 p.m.

HOME MADE BREAD

Until commercial bakeries were established, points out the National Automobile Club, quantities of home made bread were offered for sale in the open air markets of Santa Fe and other New Mexico towns.

Mr. Strite provided Wilson's $300 bail Monday. Wilson was unable to plea that day, court officials said, because the fight and the alcohol had combined to make him a bit irrational.

Check with San Francisco authorities showed Wilson to have some 38 prior brushes with the law. Report on these activities consumed five printed pages, according to the muni court clerk.

Charles Strite were convicted of Wednesday included: Driving while under the influence of alcohol; driving without a license; resisting arrest; and disturbing the peace.

PROFESSIONAL POLITICS HITS HOME

Platforms by successful candidates at the last election calling for improved transportation appear now to have been little more than promissory mouthings, made solely for the purpose of political expediency.

We recall, during the campaign blabber, that bettering of local transportation was uppermost in the minds of the candidates, they said, oh-so-convincingly.

However, now that a drive has been launched to actually work for improvement of bus service, i. e., extension of muni bus no. 14 to Colma, these councilmen are conspicuously quiet.

To date not one councilman's name has appeared on a petition requesting extension of the service nor has a councilman offered in any way, orally or through action, to aid the cause.

Now, if these councilmen were interested in the people and not the councilmen, wouldn't it appear feasible that they would lend some weight to this project?

But, apparently because the project cannot be cashed in politically, not being inaugurated by any of the august members, it therefore is a worthless venture in the councilmen's eyes.

This, citizens, is politics in its more base form.

It is a shame that members of this community, who must stomach so much hypocrisy on the national and state level, must also be subjected to the same type petty politics in their own city.

It is evident that councilmen act, not in a direction motivated by interest in the public welfare, but by action that can later be measured arithmetically at the polling places.

ALOOFNESS GOES TOO FAR

It's nobody's secret that the Westlake area, though located within the corporate bounds of Daly City and deriving all of its municipal services from this city, still maintains a sort of aloofness over the older section of Daly City.

This is nobody's fault with the exception, perhaps, of citizens who fight hard to maintain the schism, and is merely a natural difference arising out of geography and newness. Nobody can pound the idea into Westlake residents' heads that they're part of Daly City. Only time can closely ally these two areas.

However, we find it extremely difficult to reconcile a Westlake unit of the San Francisco League of Women voters.

This group, operating from the Westlake area, actively discussed the San Francisco political scene prior to that city's recent municipal election, to what avail, we cannot fathom.

On inquiring at the San Francisco main office of the league, we could elicit no plausible answer for this strange state of affairs.

Westlake citizens, despite any belief to the contrary, will find it difficult to cast a ballot in San Francisco, being an immediate part of Daly City and San Mateo county.

We have no grudge against such a league, which is altogether a very fine type of organization and a credit to a community's political consciousness.

However, we do believe such an organization, campaigning actively in its own local affairs, could accomplish infinitely more.

TRANSPORTATION IMPROVEMENT BALLOT

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

It has been our custom to devote the column to one idea at a time, subject of course to the usual temptation to sail off on a tangent at the slightest provocation. Today's is going to be a hodge-podge composed of several recent events which must be commented on now or never.

There has been quite a stir created by the omission of the word "of" in a local daily's review of Liberace's first concert. Like the writer involved in this tempest in a teapot, I have never heard him (note to printer: Watch that dangerous word "of") and was so little interested in his local appearance that I didn't read the review which created such a furor. Since the only bad publicity is no publicity, this squabble should increase the attendance at his second concert. After all, who could resist the temptation to hear and see the subject of all this pother? Why, even I would visit a neighbor's television set if I knew that he would be on its flickering screen.

Someone once wrote a book entitled, "Men, Women and Tenors," succinctly saying in three words more than most people say in three thousand. David Poleri, a relatively unknown member of the latter breed, has proved that what was implied in this title is still true. (To possible friends of Mr. Poleri: Please note we have used the word "relatively" to qualify the word "unknown," and as to what the title of that book implies, well, that's up to your own interpretation.) It is to be regretted that his show of temperment was caused by a tift over tempo. How one wishes for a star whose temper would reach critical mass at the sound of a noisy, barking audience, and who would emulate the late John Barrymore who once strode to the footlights and threw a dead fish at the audience, saying, "Chew on this, you d——d walruses!"

We visited KEAR, "The Good Music Station," and dabbled with the idea of devoting today's entire column to the only station which our radio can find. The only thing that stopped us was that we knew that as we told you all about meeting Bill Agee and Charles Lynn and Jerry Janes, eventually we would get around to mentioning Mr. Cisler, the only President of a company whom we have ever met who types his own letters. And then we would be tempted to divulge a secret which he entrusted to us. We mustn't do that, but just remember, when you read of it later on, that we knew it, too.

What were we doing down at KEAR? Aha! That's another story.

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Nov. 25, 1943 — The traditional argument of who was going to buy whose drink resulted in two arrests, wounded feelings and considerable bloodshed Sunday evening. Those involved in the altercation, which began at a local bar and ended on Mission street at the top of the hill, were Edvar Tate, 233 Los Olivos avenue, Silvio Basso, 446 Winchester street, Herbert Gilliam, 233 Los Olivos avenue, and Herbert Linga, Union hotel, San Francisco.

Safety News From Your Local Police

FOLLOW THESE RULES

Motorists feel they are well acquainted with the rules of safe driving but here are a few simple reminders designed to make motoring safer and more enjoyable.

OBEY ALL TRAFFIC SIGNS. Be careful for them and observe them fully. They are placed there for the motorist's safety.

PASSING ON HILLS. A most dangerous traffic sin. The double lines are for the motorist's protection and should never be crossed unless so directed by a Traffic Officer.

DRIVE SLOWLY IN TRAFFIC. Speed in urban areas should be reduced to cope with surrounding conditions.

RIGHT OF WAY. When a question arises as to priority at unguarded intersections, the wise motorist lets the other car through.

SOBER DRIVING. Even a little liquor dulls the mental faculties, blurs vision and slows down reaction time.

PASS WHEN SAFE. Passing should be done only when it is possible to do so without endangering the lives of others and where there is room to get back in line.

KEEP DISTANCE. Keeping a safe and proper distance from the car ahead is a good way to keep out of trouble.

SIGNAL ALWAYS. Arm signals should be given with the full arm. The driver behind may not be a mind reader.

KEEP IN LINE. Driving in the right hand lane and using the left hand lane for passing only, is the law. It should always be strictly observed.

SPORTSMANSHIP. Courtesy when driving pays big dividends in safety. The golden rule is a good safety rule.

SKIDDING. A danger which can be reduced by slow driving on wet pavements or when sand or loose gravel is one the surface of the road. Sudden turns, sudden stops or too quick acceleration can cause skidding.

CONCENTRATION. Driving is a full time job requiring the full attention of the person at the wheel.

Accident Report
(Nov. 15 to 22)

Total: Eleven accidents.

Breakdown: Nine property, two injury.

How Can I?

Q. How can I best clean the insides of glass drinking straws?

A. Just by rubbing pipe cleaners through them.

Q. What is the best kind of cloth to use for polishing knives and forks?

A. A cork works better than a cloth. Just grasp the cork by the large end, dip the small end in the polish or power and rub as usual. The cork gets down between the tines of forks better than a cloth, and the whole job is much easier on you.

Q. How can I renovate oilcloth that is faded badly, but which is not badly worn?

A. Paint it with ordinary enamel. Spread it out flat on the floor, paint and let dry. If you want to be fancy, paint a border stripe around the edge in some contrasting color.

Q. How can I give the burners on my gas stove a thorough cleaning?

A. Remove them and place in a large enameled pot with water and lye. Boil for 10 minutes, then replace on stove and light them up for a few minutes and they'll dry themselves.

Q. How can I dispel food odor in my refrigerator?

A. Clean thoroughly with mild soap and warm water. To sweeten and freshen, wipe out the refrigerator with a solution of one teaspoon of baking soda to one quart warm water. Wipe with a dry cloth. Pay special attention to the freezer and the shelf supports.

Q. How can I make a soapless furniture wash?

A. Add three tablespoons raw, or boiled, linseed oil and two tablespoons turpentine to one quart hot water. Stir and allow to cool. Apply this with a soft cloth,, well wrung out, covering a small area at a time. Wipe each part dry as you proceed. Polish afterward.

Q. How can I mix putty to fill in wood cracks for painting?

A. Mix whiting, or soft carbonate of lime, with linseed oil.

Q. What can I do when perspiration odor clings to washable materials after they have been laundered?

A. Soak them for an hour or more in warm water containing three or four tablespoons of salt for each quart of water.

Q. How can I remove crayon marks from non-washable fabrics?

A. Use carbon tetrachloride, or dry-cleaning fluid.

Q. What can I do about a mildewed rug?

A. Sponge it with thick soapsuds or rug shampoo. Remove the soap by wiping with a cloth dampened in clean water. Dry in the sun.

Fifty - Millionth Telephone Installed In White House

America's 50 millionth telephone, installed November 18 in the White House in Washington, D. C., underlines the fast growth of telephone service in San Francisco, R. N. Buell, Pacific Telephone division manager here declared.

The milestone instrument bearing the presidential seal was placed in the White House office of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Joining the nation's President in ceremonies marking the event were President Cleo F. Craig of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and Warren B. Clay, president of the United States Independent Telephone Association.

Buell pointed out it was three years after the founding of the San Francisco exchange on February 18, 1879, before the first 1000 telephones were in service here.

"San Francisco now ranks as the No. 1 city on the Pacific Coast in telephone development per 100 people. The number of telephones here is past the 467,389 mark, and there has been an increase of 127,112 in the eight years since the end of World War II," Buell said.

San Francisco's telephone growth is part of a continuing state-wide pattern, Pacific Telephone and the 64 independent telephone companies cooperating with it now serve 4,355,000 telephones in California. That is 1,968,000 more than were in use in the state at the end of World War II. There is one telephone for every three California residents, compared to an average of one for every 65 persons outside of the United States.

Become one of the first to discover the many advantages of joining the National Guard. The Guard today as never before offers to all those who can qualify, "OPPORTUNITIES UNLIMITED." SECOND GRADE
Mrs. Lamp, teacher

One could almost taste the roast turkey and the pumpkin pie in Mrs. Lamp's second grade room, and in all of the multi-purpose rooms this last month. The atmosphere was filled with the Thanksgiving mood.

Jamie Moses' mother, Mrs. James Moses, did the November decorating. She featured a large papier mache turkey, looking very regal with his multi-color feathers of crepe paper. On each of the large tables were three-dimensional Pilgrims, autumn leaves, and gourds. A large cardboard pumpkin completed the theme.

The children themselves learned about the origin of Thanksgiving by working on a cut-paper mural, done in three dimensions.

SECOND GRADE
Mrs. Dowd, teacher

Mrs. Dowd's second grade class has decorated their room for Thanksgiving. John Amirkian, Glenn Thompson, Joseph Dragoman, Ralph Riviello and Kathy Hagopian have made some large figures of Pilgrims and Indians. All the children in the class made Indian Headbands and enjoyed wearing them home this Friday. Denise Larrieu and Sherry Asaro had their birthdays this month.

SECOND GRADE
Mrs. Oberlander, teacher

Everything is hopping in the Second Grade, in Mrs. Oberlander's class. Our vivarium is filled with frogs, toads, turtles, and snakes. We are learning many interesting things about them.

Creating Attractive Garden In Small Plot Vexing Problem

While such widely publicized tribulations of metropolitan life as "parking" and "traffic" receive the attention of authorities and engineers, nurserymen, landscape architects and garden editors battle yet another vexing urban problem—how to create desirable and attractive gardens in limited space.

Like the parking problem, restricted gardening has kept pace with the growth of the modern city, but in inverse ratio. For as city real estate values have increased, the area that realistically may be devoted to recreational gardening has according decreased.

However, the above named groups have succeeded in providing new and dynamic arrangements for small garden homes that will suit a wide variance of individual tastes. Your nurseryman, for example, can outline many satisfactory small garden designs.

"Expand" Plot

In general, such designs frequently utilize redwood stakes, fencing, masonry, paint and other materials—along with subtly textured shrubs, trees and plants—in a manner to create simple angles, lines and levels that will "visually expand" the size of a garden plot.

Nurserymen have particularly contributed to the solution of the small garden problem by developing dwarf and slow growing shrubs and trees. Today, most California nurseries display camellias, rhododendrons, Japanese pines, dwarf citrus and other species for container growth on restricted patios, terraces and lanais.

Medium sized glossy-leaf shrubs, too, have become featured attractions. Such shrubs as the shiny-leaf flowering choisya, Oregon grape and the aucuba japonica will fulfill many low planting requirements in an interesting manner.

Consult Nursery

When undertaking a restricted garden project, lean heavily on your nurseryman for help. In many instances he can indicate how just a few items that offer proper and dramatic planting textures will accomplish results impossible with any number of less properly related shrubs, trees or plants.

Above all, seek to avoid cluttered lines. Get away from a boxed effect. Square lines are uncomplimentary to small areas. Landscape architects usually recommend that items be laid out in diagonal, horizontal or well placed curved lines that tend to lead the "around" the planting area, rather than directly across.

One planning system, which California Nurserymen say has been used successfully involves photographing your garden area from several angles, including house, fences and all other elements. Then make tracings from the photographs of your home and those elements you wish to retain. The tracings will then provide you with "pre-planting work-sheets" on which you can "draw-in" new items, plantsings and things you'd like to create. This method will permit you to experiment to your heart's content and help you to achieve a pleasing design that will highlight the important features of your home.

Provide Background

If possible, provide a background pattern for the shrubs and trees you set out. This can sometimes be done by creating a design in stone, brick or cement and setting it at an angle to the plantings—continuing it on to fence or boundary to create "depth" or "larger space" illusion. Another method is to utilize a climbing rose or a graceful Burmese Honeysuckle, attractively espaliered against a fence. For color, rough-textured, redwood grape stakes are good. By applying several coats of redwood stain to them, a high gloss can be obtained that will really make shrubs stand out!

There are many ways that small gardens can be made to provide charming living areas. You have but to decide which is the most adaptable to your garden . . . most compatible to your taste.

We are happy to welcome Johanne Yambert into our class.

Dennis Markey, Kathy Drakulich, and Johanne Yambert celebrated their seventh birthdays this month.

We have decided to buy number and reading games with the money we received as first prize in the PTA membership drive.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:

Now that Thanksgiving and all it's turkey, trimmings and friendly company are over we can begin to get ourselves ready for the biggest holiday of the year, Christmas. How's your Christmas shopping coming? Did you ever go to town by yourself and meet one or more of the neighbors there too? Well, that is a good way to get news, so here goes.

This is an early reminder that the OLPH Mother's club will hold it's annual Christmas bazaar on Sunday, December 6, in the school auditorium. This affair is the Mother's club "main event" and much preperation has been made to make it a success. This bazaar must be a success if they are to carry out their plans for the year, as they are beneficial for our children. Anyone interested may acquire more information by calling MRS. CATHERINE RICCI, JU. 7-5735, or MRS. DOROTHY CARRINGTON, PL. 5-2647.

HILLCREST CIRCLE No. 143 U.A.O.D. will hold the memorial service for the deceased members of their circle on Monday, November 30. All Druids are invited to attend these services which will be held at the Druid's Hall—44 Page street, S. F. The official delegates from the circle are Mesdames MAY BAKER, VICTORINE LOMBARD, and MARTHA WEGNER.

Items of Interest

MRS. McCUNE of Los Banos avenue, one of the real old-timers of our town, and beloved by all who know her, has been ill for the past while. A speedy recovery is wished her by all her friends and neighbors.

A happy birthday from all the neighbors is wished to STEVEN DAY of Los Banos avenue. There will be the usual family gathering plus a nice dinner and gifts for "Papa Day" on this his one day of the year.

MR. & MRS. HORACE FELLOWS of Los Banos avenue extended their dining room table to it's limits to host their families for the Thanksgiving dinner. From Sacramento came KENNETH FELLOWS, his wife and MICHEAL and JEFFERY FELLOWS. From Palo Alto came MR. and MRS. WILBUR FELLOWS, and from San Jose came MRS. ALICE HALL. Of course MAMA LOMBARD was there and the guest of honor, the turkey.

MRS. MAY BAKER of Vista Grande avenue spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of her son, Mr. Frank Venturi of Sebastapol. May, who has been ill for the last month, is feeling better now and she was able to make the long looked forward to trip. Here's hoping you continue to improve May, and please stay well.

The Wandering Harlans, FOOFIE & BUD, are wandering again. They have left Florida for New Orleans, Louisiana. They will probably spend Christmas in New Orleans but I wouldn't count on it as they may all of a sudden decide to wander again. They are now in the homeward stretch of their tour that has taken them across the U. S. and will get in as many states as time permits before arriving home sometime next spring. Let's hear from you again kids.

MR. and MRS. SYL CRUZ SR. of Mission street celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary last week. They celebrated with the family at the same time as their little niece LAURIE had her first birthday. All their family gathered to wish them much happiness in the future. The neighbors would like to wish them the same.

Thanksgiving plus most of the turkey and trimmings are a memory now for another year. We have all, each in our own way, much to be thankful for. Most, if not all of us have had happiness and contentment during the past year. Some of us have had sadness and unhappiness. All of us have much not only to be thankful but grateful for. Let us always remember to just look around us at the other fellow's troubles and we will be thankful that we have our own.

BRUCE LORRAZZANO of Wyandotte street was given a surprise party for his 15th birthday last week. A bunch of his friends all gathered to wish him a happy birthday and a good time was had by all with dancing and refreshments, the exciting part of the evening. Happy birthday, Bruce, from all the neighbors.

Little Miss LAURIE HEGLER celebrated her 1st birthday last week. She had her first social engagement when she entertained many of her little friends with a party. Of course the "mamas" had just as good if not better time after they had gotten the hostess and her guests off for their naps.

Servicemen

PFC JIM EAGEN has retired from army life and is now enjoying the status of a civilian again. While in the service Jim saw many places of interest including Korea. He received that most important discharge on Tuesday of last week and was royally welcomed home by all of his family. A welcome home, Jim, from all of us too.

A/B EDWARD F. HARPER of Lackland Air Force Base is among those to whom snow, sleet, hail and ice are something new. Also, as he calls them, "long handled undies." Eddie is almost through with that well known treatment known as basic training and hopes to qualify for Air Force Specialist School in Denver, Colo., in the near future. Eddie is another of the boys who will be spending the holidays away from home for the first time.

CPL. PAUL A. MITCHELL is another member of the gang getting his first real taste of snow and deep cold. There are many of the fellows who have returned from Korea (Paul's present address) who can tell him that it will get a lot colder than it is now. Paul says, "Please say hello to all and thanks for the short notes and cards from those who signed them —"One of the Neighbors." Someday I'll introduce you to her, Paul.

Old Glory Post and Auxiliary No. 2044 are holding their Christmas party for the veterans in Palo Alto in Ward eleven on December 3. Anyone desirous of remembering those fellows at Christmas may do so by getting in touch with MR. SAGEHORN of 2084 Alma road, San Carlos. He is the chairman of the Peninsula Committee for Hospitalized Veterans Inc. These are also the people who go to the hospital not only at Christmas time but on the third Wednesday of each and every month.

PFC. GEORGE CONSTANTIN, who was flown to Japan not so long ago, has moved again. He has now taken up residence in Korea where so many of the boys of our town either are or have been in the past. He hopes to meet up with at least one of the fellows from home. Any of you knowing George, look him up. He'll really be glad to see you.

T/SGT. DALE PAISLEY who has been in Iceland for the past few months in charge of a group of Air Force men activating a new base, has been returned to the United States for medical treatment. Seems that the new base has no facilities for extensive medical care and Dale, who had been very ill while there, needed more than they could give. His family hopes that he will be assigned to a hospital near his home. The speediest of recoveries is wished you, Dale, from all of us.

SGT. HOWIE FLETCHER, son of MRS. JUNE FLETCHER of Vista Grande avenue, is home on a furlough. This time he may be able to stay around long enough to see some of his many friends. There is nothing in the air that scares Howie but on the ground there is just one thing—his mother's driving. Wonder why?

News and Views

A wedding shower was given for the newly married MRS. GEORGE SCALLY at the home of her sister, MRS. PTA ARNAUDO of Willits street last week. Co-hostess with Mrs. Ornado were MRS. CLARA SCALLY and MRS. DOROTHY LEWKOWITZ. Many beautiful gifts were received by Mrs. Scally from the many friends who attended the shower.

MRS. SHIRLEY WALKER is most happy these days. Her sister, MRS. MAUDE BAUER, has moved to our town and like it very much. A hearty welcome is extended to Mrs. Bauer from all the neighbors.

MRS. CLARA POKET did it a little differently this year. Instead of doing the cooking, she dolled up and took off to her daughter's, MRS. CLARA SIREX, in San Carlos for her Thanksgiving dinner. This will be quite an event of interest and a lot of gab as Mrs. Sirex has just returned home from Los Angeles where she attended a state board meeting of the PTA as a state delegate.

MRS. MARY CONTI of Knowles avenue was another of the neighbors who celebrated their birthdays last week. Mary is really one of the old timers of our town and well known for her work in social organizations. Mary is another of the neighbors whom it is always a pleasure to meet as she has such a nice smile and cheery hello for one when she meets them.

A clothing drive is being held by the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco. Al clothing should be clean and packed in a box. After getting it all packed take it to your nearest Catholic church where it will later be gathered up and sent on it's way to those who are so much in need of warm clothing. What seems useless or worn-out to us may save the life of some child and I'm sure all we have to do is just look around and we will find something. How about it neighbors?

A happy birthday from his family and friends is wished this week to MR. CLARENCE JOHNSON of Wilson street. Being the usual hard working man, Mr. Johnson took the day in his stride as just another day. Nevertheless, congratulations are extended from all the neighbors too.

Another month, another column to end it with. Two more days and we will be in the final month of the year. Each and every month has been filled with the activities of the people who live and work in our town. It really doesn't seem possible that the time has gone so fast . Next month will bring a host of activities what with people visiting for the holidays and the normal everyday doings of the folks. Remember this is your column and I just write it up for you. All you have to do is to phone PL. 5-6482 and I will be most happy to take any and all news. Once again—Remember the boys who are gone by gift, card or letter, but remember them. 'Bye now.

PAUL'S -- EAGLES PACE DC-COLMA KEG LEAGUE

Paul's Flowers and Daly City Eagles maintained themselves at the top of the Daly City-Colma Bowling league standings Tuesday at Brentwood by slapping their opponents with three straight losses.

It was a record night for series sweeping, as five teams left their opponents winless for the night.

Paul's treated the Daly City-Colma Lions unmercifully, handing them three losses and moving them way down the league scale. Paul's could do no wrong that evening as they walked off with all individual and team honors.

Other victim of a league leader was Jack's Inn, who handed three wins to the local Eagles. The Eagles and Paul's are now tied up with 21-12 records.

Thur meat, sharing first place last week, mustered two wins to drop in to second place.

Other teams winning three Tuesday were Lombardi Auto, Adeline Market and Carlos Pizzeria. Respective victims were King's Market, Orphans and Brisbane Lions.

Paul's Babe De Luca won high individual game and high individual series with scores of 226 and 616, respectively. Romie Raggio, another Paul's representative, was second in those departments with a 224 game and 610 series.

It was Paul's all the way as they rolled high team series, 2821, and high team game, 966. Their 2821 pin-rack-up was highest in the league to date.

ROSA'S PASSING RANKS WTIH BEST

No official statistics on Peninsula Athletic league football players' performances have been made, but by comparison with San Francisco prep players, Jefferson's Ray Rosa has again compiled one of the outstanding passing efforts in northern California.

Rosa, ranked last year by metropolitan newspapers as one of northern California's best, wound up the season (excluding the South San Francisco contest) with 63 completions in 119 atempts, totalling 787 yards.

Mike Forett, the San Francisco circuit's leading passer who hails from Lincoln, threw 88 passes, making good on 31, for 550 yards.

In addition to Rosa's brilliant completion record, he threw for seven touchdowns and scored four himself this season.

Rosa, a senior, played his last football contest for Jefferson yesterday as the local team faced South San Francisco.

JOE MILLET TWIRLS NO-HIT, NO-RUN GAME

Joe Millet's no-hit, no-run pitching effort last week gave Sarto Midgetts a 13-0 victory over St. Paul's in the San Francisco Recreation league.

Skip Crudo, Larry Kane, Bill Whalen, Rich Morales, Barry Krohn and Mike Kennedy led the hitting attack.

The Midgetts next game will he held at noon tomorrow (Saturday) at Excelsior playground.

PARKING ALONG HIGHWAY

If you have to park along the highway be sure that you park far enough away from blind corners and as far over to the right as you possibly can, advises the National Automobile Club. Don't take any chances on being struck by passing cars.

JEFF 20s VIE IN PLAYOFFS FOR PAL TITLE

Jefferson high school's northern division 20s basketball champs remained in the running for the PAL playoffs as they topped southern champ Menlo Atherton Tuesday, 30 to 28.

The Jeffs, paced by Forward Ron Anguillo, who netted 12 points, sped to an early lead and were never headed throughout the contest.

The win tied the playoffs up with one apiece.

Final game was held Wednesday in San Mateo after THE RECORD had gone to press.

At the end of the first quarter Tuesday it was Jefferson leading by a 6-3 margin. They picked up momentum in the second quarter and held a 16-11 advantage at halftime.

Going into the fourth quarter the locals had built the lead to 24 to 16.

Defensive work of Guards George Miller and Ray Vuillmainroy and Center Larry Kennedy on the backboards held the Menlo scoring leader, Dick Crane, in check.

Scoring for Daly City players was as follows: Dick Kalinin, 7; Kennedy, 3; Miller, 4; Vuillmainroy, 4; Leonard Hinterman, 0.

In last Thursday's game the locals blew a 29-21 third quarter lead to drop a 41-35 decision.

Menlo's Crane hit for eight tallies in the final quarter to lead the rally.

Jeff Stops SJ; Rosa Paces Win

PASS INTERCEPTION IN FINAL SECONDS GIVES INDIANS FOURTH LEAGUE GAME

A spectacular pass interception by Quarterback Ray Rosa in the waning seconds of last Friday's game thwarted a San Jose rally and gave the Jefferson gridders a 13-7 victory over the Garden City team.

The win brought the Indians a 4-2 seasonal record and assured them of at least a tie for third place.

The passing combination of Rosa to Wally Honeywell gave the Jeffs an early lead as the flashy quarterback tossing from his own 35, threw what was described as one of the longest aerials in league play this year and hit Honeywell for a TD.

The pass travelled 55 yards through the air and Coach Joe McGrath said it was undoubtedly the longest thrown this year by any PAL performer.

Good For 65 Yards

Altogether the play was good for 65 yards, as Honeywell, who had raced behind the secondary, scampered over from ten yards out.

The conversion attempt was missed and the Indians led, 6 to 0, holding the advantage throughout the remainder of the helf.

In the third quarter the Jeffs opened up on a sustained drive from their own 30 marker that carried them into touchdown territory.

Again, it was Rosa who provided the key play, capitalizing on the pass-run option. On his own 30-yard line, Rosa faked a pass from a spread formation and romped 23 yards.

Fake Punt

With four yards to go and fourth down coming up on the San Jose 40, the Indians again employed offensive trickery to rack up yardage.

Wally Honeywell faked a punt and moved the ball 35 yards down to the Bulldog five. From there his brother Jim smashed over guard into the end zone.

In the last four minutes with Wally Honeywell, who has been on the sick list, out of the game, San Jose's top pass receiver Bill De Cristina got behind Bill Butler to snake in a touchdown toss. The Bulldogs made good on the point after TD, and were right back in the game.

Desperation Passes

After gaining control of the ball again, the San Joseans began throwing in desperation and it was then that Rosa made his game-saving interception, stealing the pass on his own two-yard line from De Cristina, who appeared to be all alone.

Rosa returned the interception to the five, and from there the Jeffs ate up the clock by falling on the ball on each play.

According to McGrath, the San Jose team was one of the tougher outfits his eleven has met this season. Jefferson's win knocked San Jose out of a chance to tie for first in PAL competition.

Honeywells Shine

Individual statistics showed Jim Honeywell leading in the yards rushing department, with 74 in 11 tries, for a robust 6.9 average per carry. His brother, Wally, went 55 yards in 11 attempts, while Bill Butler got 11 yards in six plays and Rosa rolled up 23 in two plays. Del Hamann got five yards in four tries.

Rosa's aerial excellence again showed in the statistics, as he completed four for ten, good for 95 yards.

His targets were Wally Honeywell—one for 65 yards; Jim Minor—one for eight yards; and Bill Butler—two for 22 yards.

Jefferson lagged a little behind San Jose in team statistics, gaining only nine first downs against the Bulldogs 12.

In net rushing, Jefferson had 109, compared with 144 for their opponents, while through the airlanes San Jose acquired 116 against Jeff's 95.

Wally Honeywell's leech-like pass defense coverage against San Jose's end De Cristina probably stopped the Bulldogs from making good on many of their 17 pass attempts, the Jeff coach said. The Bulldogs completed six aerials.

Yesterday's annual "Big Game" against South San Francisco brought the season to a close for the Jefferson gridders.

Parent-Faculty Club Of SF State Holds Recent Birthday Tea

The Parent-Faculty club of San Francisco State college met on November 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scholten for it's Birthday Tea. Mrs. Lawrence W. Hacker was guest speaker. She told of visiting France and Italy. Noting how shiny the gondolas were, she said that one would assume that they belonged to a company fleet, as taxis do here, but found that each gondolier owns his boat and takes great pride in making it more attractive than others.

She told of visiting Sainte-Chapelle, a tiny chapel which is known as the "Jewel of Paris" and is believed to hold the original "Crown of Thorns." It is almost entirely of stained glass windows (which were removed during the war. Restoring it meant placing each numbered piece in its proper place.)

Mrs. George Napris introduced past presidents and charter members. Mrs. Harold Keller and Mrs. Austin Rouse poured. Mrs. P. S. Day cut the birthday cake.

The next meeting of the Parent-Faculty club will be held on December 9 at the new San Francisco State college campus at 1:30 p.m.

It is strange that many motorists who would not think of failing to flush the crankcase occasionally, will let the transmission and differential gears go for their entire life without this salutary treatment, points out the National Automobile Club. It is not enough to keep adding lubricant when the supply in these units gets low. Wear fills the grease with filings and eventually it becomes more of a grinding compound than a lubricant.

Guest speakers will be Dr. J. Paul Leonard, Dr. Dorothy E. Wells and Dr. John L. Bergstresser.

Local Man Tells Of Return "Home" After 45 Years Absence

"To become a useful member of the human race in general and good citizen of my adopted homeland, the mighty and glorious—United States."

Elias Wille, 4 Shakespeare street, Daly City, made that vow as a young man and now, at the age of 73, the immigrant who left his native Germany more than 45 years can look back with some assurance and feel that he has achieved that goal.

Wille, a slight man who still speaks with the faint trace of his ancestral Germany, has probably lived further away from "home" for a longer period than any Daly City resident.

"Find Promised Land"

He has lived in Daly City since 1906, after leaving his homeland on April 18 of that year to seek to "better my conditions and find in this promised land of ours the milk and honey which the old country could not furnish me with."

If you can call a good family, a steady job—Wille has worked for 35 years as a gardener at a Colma cemetery—a home and a determined Christian faith "milk and honey," then Wille has found it here.

Holds Ideals

In spite of "shattered dreams and disillusions" Wille holds on to his ideals in later life.

Forty-seven years ago Wille left his homeland, and it wasn't until two years ago that he had an opportunity to return there.

Through all those 45 years away from loved ones, Wille was beset with the same longing that affects all immigrants — memories of youthful days, his parents, brothers and his only sister who became a nun after he left; memories of friends, good times with them; memories of the little town where he was born, snuggling up against the fir and beechwoods of a towering mountainside, the old castles of Guttenberg and Vaduz, the fruitful Rhine Valley and the glorious Alps where he used to herd and tend cows, climbing all the peaks of the surrounding mountains to watch a sunrise.

Many Thoughts

These things were but a few of the many thoughts that passed through Elias Wille's mind as he tended his flowers or sat in a comfortable chair at his pleasant Daly City home.

During those many years Wille, a prolific writer, wrote nostaligically in poetry and stories of his native land.

Finally, as he explains later in "Travelogue," a book of his trip published by his hometown press, Wille, then 71, became so obsessed with the memories that they could no longer be put off.

"Throwing caution to the winds, I finally made my cherished dream come true."

Wille embarked from the San Francisco airport, with his first stop Zurich, Switzerland, and before him the anticipation of joyous greetings and the three months alotted him for his trip.

Reminisces on Voyage

He reminisces during his plane ride about the 17-day ocean crossing back in 1906 on a tramp steamer, and what a marvel it was that he was making the same Atlantic ocean trip in 12 hours.

On arriving in Zurich, it was all beginning to come back to Wille after nearly half-a-century of absence: "What a glorious feeling, to see you again, to breathe your pure mountain air; to hear the old familiar dialect, the same hearty greeting—Gruss Gott."

"Herr Wille?"

Wille's first pleasureable surprise came as he stepped off the plane when a young fellow, in typical swiss costume, stepped forward. "Herr Wille?" he asked. Wille surveyed the young man. "Yes," he replied, "and who are you?"

It proved to be his nephew, son of his brother George. Wille had sent a few cards to the old country prior to his departure from Daly City and that was how he happened to be greeted by the one-man reception committee.

Another Reunion

Staying overnight in Zurich, Wille's next stop was to be Sargans, where he was too face another reunion with profound emotional results.

His brother and cousin were waiting for him.

Case of Study

As Wille described the meeting in his "Travelogue," "I will leave it to your immagination, what immediately followed. It was rather a case of studying each other; 45 years do not pass without leaving their marks upon the face of a person, no matter how familiar. I was hardly able to speak."

The "Gruss-Gotts, Bruder, Gruss Gott, Vetter," "sounded rather shaky," according to Wille's initial reaction, but he observed the "handshakes were firm."

The remainder of his journey through the snow-capped mountains found Herr Wille silent and very often suppressing tears that "seemed constantly welling in my eyes."

"Here I am"

"I thought I could laugh it off, the 45 years, and slap my brother upon the shoulder, saying: 'Well, George, here I am, remember me?'"

That was how Wille figured he might handle the situation, but he found himself to be quite wrong.

But the difficult part was yet to come. Wille had yet to meet his sister, who, 40 years earlier he had sent money to come to Daly City and join him.

He had sent her 2000 franks ($200) back in 1911 for her journey to this country. Then she informed him of her plans: She had decided to become a nun.

As a nun, she was now stationed in Wangs, a little town near Sargans, in the Burgerheim—or poor peoples home. So Wille decided to drive there first and see her, before entering his homeland, Liechtenstein, which lays across the River Rhine.

WILLE RENEWS ACQUAINTANCES ON VISIT TO GERMANY

AMONG THE MANY acquaintances Elias Wille (right) renewed after re-visiting his native Germany following a 45-year absence were a parish priest and two cousins shown here in front of a German heim (home).

First Wiedersehen

It was only a ten-minute drive and soon Wille was to have his first Wiedersehen with his sister after 45 years.

Wille recalls, "My sister was a strong healthy girl, 23 year ago, when I saw her last—what I held in my arms now was a frail little careworn and shaky nun with heavy-lensed glasses under nose and with a wan smile looking up in my face.

After a short visit and promises to see each other again before Wille returned to the United States, Wille was off for Trubbach, where he crossed the Rhine and entered his homeland.

Kissed the Ground

He asked the driver to stop, stepped out of the bus and kissed the Heimaterde (homesoil). Forty-five years vanished before his eyes, "Forty-five years of longing and hoping almost hope—a dream come true."

Wille was surprised to note the changes in Liechtenstein—despite two devastating world wars, natural catstrophes (twice the River Rhine flooded the valley) the little country "has made great strides in progress."

Grand Welcome

The small village of 1800 persons had gained advance knowledge of Wille's homecoming through the local press and the Gruss Gotts almost overwhelmed him.

He was wined and dined and was hard put to answer all the invitations extended him from his home and neighboring towns. One of his appearances brought him to the castle of the ruling prince, Franz Joseph II, where he spent a cordial hour smoking and conversing with the benevolent prince.

Pilgrimmage To Rome

One of the great moments of Wille's life, as he described it in his "Travelogue," was his pilgrimmage to the Holy City, Rome—"The eternal city, the cradle of Christendom, the city of catacombs and triumph of countless martyrs, the home of the popes."

After his pilgrimmage, with his pocketbook "convincing me of the advisability," Wille decided it was about time to return to the U.S.A.

Saying goodbye to dear friends, relatives, particularly if one knows it might be forever, proved a difficult task for Wille.

But a few days later he was back in his adopted homeland in his Shakespeare street residence in Daly City, with memories of a glorious vacation and the knowledge that he had been granted an opportunity that sometimes never comes to the immigrant—he had returned for a while to his native land.

PIANO, ORGAN INSTRUCTION OFFERED FREE

Group instruction for persons interested in learning to play the piano and organ will be offered by the Adult Department of the South San Francisco high school.

The class will be taught by Rene Dagenais, band conductor and choir director at Santa Clara University. Mr. Dagenais is a teacher of piano and organ, a composer, author and lecturer of note. He will be asissted by Wilson Jennings.

The course will be based upon the four fundamentals of teaching: presentation, demonstration, application and practice.

A few of the subjects to be covered are hand position, techniques, automatic reading, time-saving analysis, and a study of the music masters who made piano playing the greatest of musical arts.

A selected student without any piano playing knowledge will be started so the class can observe the course in action and the student's development through materials and ideas presented in the course.

The course is set up for 12 lessons of 2 hours each. The first 6 lessons will be offered without payment of a registration fee. At the beginning of the second 6 lessons those who feel they are learning and wish to continue will pay the usual registration fee of one dollar.

The class starts Thursday, December 3, at 7:00 p.m. o'clock in the band room of the South San Francisco high school, 400 B street.

Children love to ride on S. P. trains because it's fun. And parents like to travel on S. P. because they can relax and enjoy themselves—thanks to the special children's services we provide.

For instance: If baby's bottle needs warming, your Pullman porter or Coffee Shop steward will cheerfully get it done. And for the junior gourmet, we have a wonderful Children's Menu with specially prepared meals and moppet-sized servings. Mom and Dad can share their regular meals with their children, too—we'll gladly furnish extra plates and silverware.

On most of our trains, little fellows under 5 ride free. Older little people, from 5 through 11, ride for half fare when accompanied by a grown-up. (On a few of our trains, there is a small reserved seat charge that applies to anyone big enough to occupy a seat.)

Meantime, we've been thinking about your comfort, too. Chair Cars on Southern Pacific's streamliners were built with just that in mind. No-glare fluorescent lighting. Soft-as-a-cloud foam-rubber seats. Lots of leg room and move-around room. Extra large windows. Feather-touch doors. Spacious washrooms.

We baby your freight, too—
And S. P.'s gentle freight handling doesn't cost much, either. On an average, we move a ton of things for only 1.45 cents a mile. We have more miles of line serving more Western cities and towns than any other railroad. So, for fast, efficient and dependable freight service—whether carloads or l. c. l.—call our nearest agent.
